

November 3, 1997

To Whom It May Concern:

Last year, we retained Caulton Contracting, owned and operated by Tim Caulton, for a remodeling project involving our entire home. The work included repainting the interior and exterior of the home including all woodwork, wallpapering the bathrooms and kitchen areas, adding numerous electrical ceiling fixtures throughout the house, laying ceramic tile in the bathrooms, replacing the master bath counter top with corian and the kitchen and powder bathroom counter tops with granite, installing a whirlpool tub in the master bath with new plumbing fixtures in the bathrooms and kitchen, replacing several exterior doors and installing plantation shutters on all of the windows.

The work was performed professionally in a timely manner with the construction mess kept to a minimum. Mr. Caulton was very responsive to any questions or concerns that we had and all the work was done to our complete satisfaction. Changes from our original agreement were handled professionally with a formal change order and bid submitted for our approval prior to the work being performed so there were no surprises.

The results of the work exemplify the high standards that Mr. Caulton expects and delivers to his customers. We would not hesitate in recommending or retaining again Caulton Contracting for home remodeling work.

Yours truly,

Nancy B.
Dallas, Texas